Library Service during the Coronavirus (COVID19) outbreak

Can I physically access the library?

- Yes, the University Hospital Geelong Library space is open to staff and students for computer use for study or research only.
- You will need to swipe your Barwon Health ID proxy card to gain access.
- Maximum number of people allowed in the library space at one time is limited to 11 to match the number of computers available.
- SOCIAL DISTANCING RULES TO BE STRICTLY ADHERED TO OR ACCESS MAY BE REMOVED.
- McKellar Centre Library is to remain closed at this time due to space restrictions.

What if I need library assistance?

- Library staff are working from home and are able to continue delivering library services.
  - Phone: (03) 4215 0478 or email: library@barwonhealth.org.au
- Library Services we can provide include -
  - Literature Searches,
  - Article/Book Requests,
  - Journal eTOC alerts,

What if I have a book to return?

- You can still return books to the library. There is a book returns box just outside the door of the library upstairs in the St Mary’s Hall, and there is an after-hours book return chute just outside the door of the McKellar Library.

What if I want to borrow a book or have a book on hold?

- You can access the University Hospital Geelong library to borrow books using the self-checkout system, or
- Send us an email at library@barwonhealth.org.au to let us know which book/s you require and we will organise a time for you to pick it up.

I’m working from home and need to access the library resources

- The library webpage, electronic resources and services are all available to staff offsite but you do need to register as a library member.
- Fill out a Barwon Health Library Membership Form and we will then send you information on how to activate your account so you can access the resources.
